

INGWENYAMA | UNIT 7

Ingwenyama, which means lion in Zulu, is a smaller air-conditioned thatched unit, which can accommodate three guests.

The unit has a queen- sized bed and a three quarter bed with an en-suite shower and separate toilet. The shower offers a curtain, which can be drawn for privacy.

The unit has a fridge, microwave and coffee/tea making facility.

Enjoy a rustic African experience with an outside communal bush kitchen, where you can prepare meals. The bush kitchen is shared with the unit next door and is equipped with few cooking utensils with a stove and microwave oven, as well as cutlery and crockery, and a wash up area.

Ingwenyama faces the Crocodile River, and has a small patio sheltered by a thatched umbrella with a dining table, where you can enjoy a barbeque (braai) in the evenings, there is no living room area.
